A CONSIDERATE MONARCH

He Refuses to Support His Family at Pu He Expense.

LONDON, Nov. 10.-King Humbert, taly, has set a good example to his fellow has declined to ask the Italian Parliame has declined to ask the Italian Parliamen for the State allowance, which would, according to custom, be voted for the Princof Naples, heir to the throne, now that has attained his majority. The King declare that while the Treasury is in such a depleted condition he cannot conscientiously call for an appropriation of public funds to a member of his family. The condition of the poorer classes of Italy continues to be deplorable. Destitution prevails in many quarters, and all who can arrange to do sare leaving the country in the hope of bet are leaving the country in the hope of betering themselves, believing that they cannot be worse off in any country than they a in their native land. Six thousand personal have immigrated to America during the past ten days.

of GLADSTONE ON THE ELECTIONS Interest in the Result on Moral as Well as Economical Grounds.

LONDON, Nov. 10 .- In reply to a reques for his opinion in regard to the American elections, Mr. Gladstone writes the London correspondent of the United Press as follows: "I have received the intelligence of the result of the recent elections in America with lively feeling, on grounds moral not less than economical. In my apinion the example of America in reference to the Tarif bill will not have much weight in Europe. I might run the risk, if I proceeded further, of justly offending by my undue intrusion, the American Republicans, whom outside the single ground of protection, I rejoice to reckon as warmly sympathizing with the cause of public right. I believe British interest in the McKinley tariff is secondary, except for the monentary disturbance." elections, Mr. Gladstone writes the London

Nationalists-New York Topics. NEW YORK BURRAU RICHMOND DAILY TIMES, November 10, 1890.

It was a blue Monday for the Stock Exrange to-day. Prices went down with a drop at the opening, which astonished even the most hardened bear. Speculators could not understand why Jay Gould's stocks The "street" stood the rattling very well, and it was generally remarked that not a failure occurred at the Stock Exchange, failure occurred at the Stock Exchange, although the losses to some houses had been immense. It was the millionaires and the big men who had lost the money by the great decline, was the general opinion in Wall street. Rumors of various houses being in trouble were freely circulated, but, although, some of the firms mentioned had no doubt been crippled, they managed to pull through.

ONE CAUSE OF THE DECLINE. One cause for the break in some stocks was the fact that the banks had called in
